

DIALOGUE PRIVACY AND MODERATION POLICIES

Dialogue Privacy Policy

The National Academy is committed to ensuring the privacy of our users. This dialogue does require you to submit an e-mail address when registering. We will not display your e-mail address on the site or share it with anyone else. E-mail addresses are collected solely for the purpose of registering participants and communicating about this specific effort, and this information will not be used for any other purpose. The username you create (you are under no obligation to use your actual name) will be visible to other visitors to the site when you post an idea or comment.

Aggregate data on user traffic (such as pages visited and average time spent on the site) may be incorporated within the National Academy's final report.

Moderation Policy

This online dialogue allows you the opportunity to fill out custom text fields, which are publicly visible. Our moderation policy is to ensure that your comments are appropriate and not harmful to others.

The following types of comments may be deleted:

- Posts revealing sensitive/personal information
- Obscenity
- Information posted in violation of law

The National Academy reserves the right to remove posts that are not on topic. Our intent is to remove as few posts as needed while ensuring a focused, constructive discussion.

If you have a complaint about an item of user-generated content on this site, please flag it.
